

2- Place one layer of pretty fabric with wrong side up, one layer of waterproof fabric with the absorbent side up (usually the waterproof side will be underneath) and finally all desired layers of towel (any side up).

Pin those in place so that the absorbent layers are well centered.

3- Sew absorbent layers to first outer side, using a large zigzag stitch which will prevent any unraveling. Cut any excess fabric if needed. Remove pins.

4- Place second layer of outer pretty fabric under the piece you just sewed, so that both right sides of pretty outer fabric face each other. Pin together.
